

Media Alert: Egnyte Showcases Adaptive Enterprise File Services for the Construction Industry

Company to Exhibit at National AGC Convention in Puerto Rico and AGC Georgia Construction Technology Forum

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. - March 17, 2015 - Egnyte, the market leader in Adaptive Enterprise File Services, announced it will showcase its solution for the architecture, engineering and construction (AEC) industry at two upcoming events. The company will exhibit at the 96th Annual AGC Convention in San Juan, Puerto Rico March 18-20, 2015 and AGC Georgia's 2nd Annual Construction Professionals Conference & Marketplace on April 29, 2015 in Atlanta, Ga. Egnyte's secure, hybrid file sharing solves key pain points in the AEC industry (i.e., large CAD files, limited bandwidth, regulation requirements, remote teams), and the company will demonstrate how it is able to help large firms increase job site productivity, save millions of dollars in overall costs, seamlessly and securely handle subcontractor access and solve the "version control" problem once and for all.

What:

The 96th Annual AGC Convention

When:

March 18-20, 2015
