

Egnyte Named One of the Best Businesses for Happy Employees and Work-Life Balance

Building on its continued success and momentum, Egnyte looks to increase its workforce in Raleigh

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. – October 15, 2019 - Egnyte, the only business-first secure content platform, today announced plans to rapidly expand the number of employees in their sales and product development teams in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Earlier this year, Egnyte announced its plans to expand in Raleigh as it made significant investments in its growth. Since the beginning of the year, Egnyte has hired more than 100 employees worldwide and looks to build on its most recent achievements and recognitions. The Raleigh office will be a critical hub for the company's growth plans.

Recently, Egnyte was recognized by IDC as a "Major Player" in its most recent MarketScape, and has made Business Insider's Top 25 list for small US companies with the best work-life balance (#5) and Top 25 small and medium US companies with the happiest employees (#20). Additionally, USA Today named CEO and Co-founder, Vineet Jain as one of the best CEOs for minority workers (#25).

"We started Egnyte with four employees, and now we're a company of nearly 700 people worldwide. It is no easy task to scale a positive culture with a good work-life balance," said

Vineet Jain, CEO and Co-Founder at Egnyte. “I am extremely proud of this team and the work they’ve put in to ensure Egnyte is one of the top workplaces in tech.”

Egnyte will be hosting an exclusive Tech Talk in Raleigh on November 14 with Egnyte VP of Engineering, Tal Broner, and the rest of the engineering team. Attendees will also have the chance to meet the VP of Human Resources & Talent Acquisition, Su Murthy to learn more about hiring plans and company culture.

“The company is keen on diversifying our geo footprint. We’ve had phenomenal success in other regions and expanding our office to tap into RTP’s tech DNA is the next logical step for us” said Su Murthy, VP of Human Resources & Talent Acquisition.
